

Scenes of Waterbury

Scavenger Hunt

Artists practice looking closely at things so that they have details to include in their artworks. You can practice close looking too!

This activity will give you the opportunity to look closely at your home or neighborhood. See if you can complete the scavenger hunt on the next page!

Calvin Curtis, Derby, Connecticut, 1849, oil on canvas

Look closely! What are some of the details you see in this painting?

Duration: 60 minutes

Find These!

All you need is a camera or a phone! Go around your house or around your neighborhood and take photos (or videos) of the following things:

1. Sign
2. Building
3. Animal
4. Flower
5. Machine
6. Something old
7. Something round
8. Something that makes noise
9. Something that smells
10. Something you want to touch

Remember, these can all be real items, or drawings or toy versions of the items. If you find all of them, send them to Heather@mattmuseum.org for a prize!

Other Recommendations:

Explore your own neighborhood, or look below for some Downtown Walking Tours. Go out with other members of your household and explore downtown Waterbury.

Remember to #socialdistance and stay six feet away from anyone who isn't part of your family.

Take a break while you are on your scavenger hunt and try our landscape drawing activity with the urban landscape of Waterbury.